

ART:

The Egyptians treated cats with as much respect as their most important family members. This was because cats protected their homes from tiny, dangerous beasts: asps hiding in clay jars, rats spoiling massive amounts of stored grain, venomous scorpions creeping under cradles. One of their Gods, Bastet, even took on the appearance of a cat.

How to draw an Egyptian cat (Bastet)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y9nIXr8L05o>